DIRECTOR'S DIALOGUE

Christopher L. Lilly

Executive Director of Office of Charitable Gaming

Chris Lilly brings to the Office of Charitable Gaming more than two decades of demonstrated commitment to public service. As general counsel to the majority leadership of the Kentucky Senate, he was responsible for legal and public policy analysis and research and served as an adviser to leaders and members of the Senate Majority Caucus. Responsibilities included drafting legislation and amendments and examining legislation from a legal and public policy perspective. He reviewed each article of legislation to be voted upon as well as assisted majority members in preparing legislation for introduction. He also prepared talking points for use in committees and on the Senate floor.

Chris was a staff attorney for Fayette County Legal Aid prior to becoming general counsel for Senate Republicans in 1983. He served as general counsel for the Senate Majority Leadership from 2000 to 2004.

The Licensing Branch reminds all licensees to submit applications for licensure at least 60 days prior to engaging in charitable gaming. If you are renewing your license, you must submit your application no later than 60 days prior to the expiration date on your current license. Organizations submitting an application for an exemption are required to do so 30 days before the exempt charitable gaming activities first occur. This will enable the office to process your application in a timely manner and may prevent your organization from incurring a delay in gaming.

We also request that you provide your organization number on your correspondence to the office. It is not uncommon for the Office to have several organizations with similar names.

When requesting a change such as location, date, or time, you are required to submit this change 30 days in advance. This request must be signed by an officer of the organization. Approval by the office must be received by your organization before the requested change is effective.

The office continues to receive numerous applications, renewal applications, requests for changes in the application information and Schedule A's that do not contain original signatures but do include signatures of persons that are not designated as an officer of the organization according to your bylaws. We must have an original signature of an officer on each of these documents. Again, failure to complete the application properly may result in a delay in licensing your organization. If you're not sure how to complete the application, please call us before sending it to us. Help us help you!

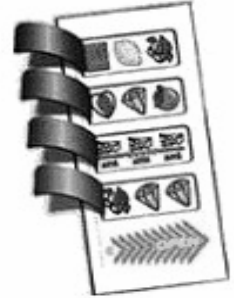

Happy Retirement!!!

Joyce Clark is retiring from the Office of Charitable Gaming September 30th after 33 years of public service. Joyce began her state government career in 1973 at the Justice Cabinet. Joyce has worked in the Office of Charitable Gaming as an administrative secretary in the compliance branch since 1998. The Office of Charitable Gaming staff expresses sincere appreciation to Joyce for her many years of service, assistance and friendship and extends best wishes to her in all of her future endeavors. Best of Luck!!!

STAFF SPOTLIGHT

Deputy Executive Director

Glenn Jennings brings a wealth of experience as the newly appointed deputy executive director of the Office of Charitable Gaming. Glenn previously served as deputy commissioner and acting commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Insurance. He led efforts to automate agent licensing and other tracking functions, worked with regulatory e-commerce issues and oversaw the agency's health insurance programs.

Glenn, a former deputy commissioner in the Department for Medicaid Services, has more than 20 years experience in the health care field specializing in financial management and information processing. The Kentucky native began his state government career in 1974 in the information systems area on various welfare entitlement programs before moving to the Department for Medicaid Services.

A graduate of Western Kentucky University, Glenn resides in Lawrenceburg, Kentucky with his wife and two children.

Director of Enforcement

John Holiday of Harrodsburg is a 17-year veteran of the United States armed forces. Holiday's military career included tactical intelligence experience with the U.S. Special Operations Command and certain "highly accelerated" specialized conventional units. Holiday's strategic experience includes serving as a federal special agent with Department of Defense Counter-Intelligence. His most recent assignment was as Special Agent in Charge (SAIC) of Special Operations/ Counter-Intelligence Activity throughout several volatile southwestern and central Asian countries supporting the global war on terrorism.

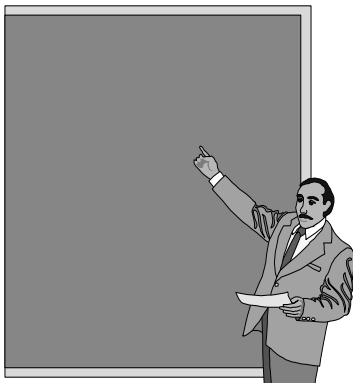

John learned early in life that service to country was of the utmost importance and feels it's the responsibility of every U.S. citizen to contribute to public service in some way.

John Holiday and his wife, the former Donna Robinson, also a native of Harrodsburg, have two sons, Ben and Harlan.

Director of Licensing and Compliance

Laura Moore is the new director of licensing and compliance in the Office of Charitable Gaming. Laura has practiced law in Louisville for over 20 years and her background is in business law, estate planning and administration. Her husband, Lamarr Moore, is a certified public accountant. They have four sons, ages 22, 18, and 14 year old twins. Laura looks forward to working with you.
